The new Cooks and Waiters' alliance will apply for membership tonight in the Utah Federation of Labor. A warm time is looked for as it is claimed that this alliance was organized to fight the other cooks and waiters' organization which is now a union in regular stand with the federation, and objection will be made to its admission to be placed on an equal footing with the other union. The feeling between the two is not of that amicable character which brought out that rhapsody from the Psalmist as he sang, "How beautiful it is for brethren to dwell together

The troubles between the electrical workers and the contractors appear to be a case of "and the villian still pursued her." The contractors recently presented an agreement for the men sign preparatory to "wiping out the and "beginning all over again." But the workers returned the agreement unagreed to last night, with objections to all the propositions but one. The men object particularly to the proposition that they shall agree to work for none but association con-tractors, while the latter, the men claim, are unrestricted as to their employment of union or non-union help. However, the arbitration committee will continue its efforts to bring about a reconciliation.

A prominent grain handler in discus sing the home situation today said "The great trouble with most Utah growers has been that they do not give enough back to the earth in the way of fertilizers for what they take grain several seasons from a tract of land and taken the nutriment out of it, is it to be wondered at that the grain becomes shrunken and irregular quality? You can take a handful of wheat grown in most Utah fields, and you will find that in the stone it will grind uneven, and the product will be as it grinds. Now take the northern grown wheat, where the growers are careful to manure their fields, and give back to nature the equivalent for she gives to the grain, and notice how full and even the kernels are, and how easily and evenly the grain grinds. Such growers get from 40 to 43 pounds of good flour from a bushel of wheat, whereas many of our home growers who neglect to fertilize their fields do not realize over 36 pounds per bushel. And the same may be said of many Itah fruit growers. Go along Market Row and see how much of the fruit sold there came from Utah. If our fruit men will not give their orchards the attention they need, what else can they expect but poor, scrubby fruit, but fruit from adjoining states is getting the upper hand of the locally

WAS DISCUSSED.

City Council Warmly Handles a Very Cold Subject.

LIBERTY PARK CONCERTS.

Public Grounds Committee Acts Favorably on the Attraction-Electric Railroad Franchise.

The new ice ordinance was the prinipal subject of discussion at the council committee meeting last night. The ordinance provides for the inspection of ice and regulates the standard of purity required before ice can be sold by the dealers. Both sides of the question were argued before the sanitary and municipal laws committees. City Physician King, City Attorney Nye, and City Chemist Harms argued in fayor of the passage of the ordinance, and Judge Wenger, on behalf of the ice dealers, presented the contentions of the dealers against it. O. S. Bocker, Willis Cotton and J. A. Rockwood composed the delegation of ice-merchants present

ORDINANCE TOO RIGID.

Judge Wenger opened the arguments and stated that the standard of purity was entirely too high-nine parts of alburninoid ammonia and nine parts of free amraonia per million parts-that ice containing more impurities would be passed by experts as good ice. He thought it entirely too much authority to place in a man to allow him to make an examination of one piece of ice and condemn a whole load just because piece was found to be impure. He argued that the examination should be made at the ice house and if the ice was found to be up to the standard the dealer should be allowed to sell it.

DR. KING'S VIEWS. After two years as head of the health epartment, Dr. King thought that a standard of purity for ice was a necessity to the health of the citizens. He argued that the wagon is the proper lace to sample the ice as that is where the people have to get their ice; they don't go to the ice house for it. If a man is filthy or his wagon is filthy he should not be allowed to sell ice. If he sells impure ice he should be prosecutsmall dealers would be at the mercy of the large dealers as the big ones could pollute the ice in the wagon and have the whole condemned. He argued that the ice should be inspected at the pond before the dealer was put to the expense of harvesting it.

CHICAGO ORDINANCE.

City Attorney Nye stated that the ordinance was exactly the same as the one in use in Chicago, and it had worked ail right there. Pond inspection would be out of the question as the ice could be polluted after it is cut. He said the ordinance allowed the sale of impure ice but it must be branded as

CHANCE FOR RASCALITY.

Mr. Bocker said that, if he were inclined, the ordinance would give him as good an opportunity to practice ras-The two big companies had combined and were represented before the committee by a doctor and chemist and he though the small dealers should be given the same opportunity.

ORDINANCE RECOMMENDED.

After considerable discussion it was suggested that Salt Lake was entitled to as pure ice as Chicago and, upon Robertson's motion, it was decided to recommend the ordinance for passage.

ELECTRIC FRANCHISE.

The committees on streets and municipal laws were unable to reach any definite conclusion in regard to the trie line, but it is probable that an in-corporation will be required before the franchise will be granted. Representatives of the railway present said they would incorporate for $200,000 inside of 10 days if assured that their franchise would be granted. Robertson op posed any such pledge as it would be just as easy to peddle the pledge as the franchise. The matter was postoned until next Thursday evening at :30, at which time the parties protesting against the franchise will be heard. LIBERTY PARK CONCERTS.

The public grounds committee acted favorably upon the matter of band con-certs at Liberty park by Held's band during the coming season. The band is obliged to give at least eight concerts and must forfeit $50 for each of the eight concerts it fails to give. The concerts will be given between 4 and o'clock on each Sunday afternoon. The committee was offered $150 for the refreshment privilege but it decided to accept the offer of the band to exhange free concerts for that privilege. The contract will run for two seasons and if the band fails to give concerts the second season it is to pay $150 for the refreshment privilege.

NO APPOINTMENTS.

The appointments sent in by Chief Hilton to fill the places now vacant on the police force, were side-tracked for 30 days. It was decided that they wanted no more wrangling in the coun-cil for the present, and so the matter was continued for 30 days. Julius Goldberg's proposition to paint new street signs for the privilege of placing advertisements on them was not accepted by the committee on Dr. J. T. White was given the privil-ege of placing waste boxes in the busi-ess parts of town in exchange for the advertising thereon. The special committee on jail site recommended the construction of a new jail on the old site, as was anticipated it would do.

BROUGHT DOWN A CHAIR. Gun is Accidentally Discharged in Second Hand Store.

In the second hand store owned by Mrs. Ingleman on State street a gun was accidentally discharged last evening. No one was injured but Mrs. Ingleman was terribly frightened. A young man walked into the store and asked to see a gun as he was desirous of purchasing a weapon and would do so if he could find one to his liking. The clerk pulled down a hammerless gun and was demonstrating the man-ner of its workings when it accident-ally went off. The barrel was fortunately pointed towards the ceiling and the charge brought down a chair that was hung up. Mrs. Ingleman declares

ARTHUR SHEPHERD TO LEAD THEATRE ORCHESTRA

ARTHUR SHEPHERD.

Patrons of the Salt Lake theater who follow the work of the orchestra, so long presided over by Prof. Willard Weihe, have noticed that he has been absent from his post the last two or three nights. The reason developed at the theater this morning. In answer to inquiries, Manager Pyper stated that Mr. Weihe had tendered his resignation as leader of the orchestra, and that his resignation had been accepted. A dispatch had been sent to Arthur Shepherd at Boston, where he has been studying for the past eight months, tendering him the position, and he had promptly accepted it, stating that he would leave for home today. It is expected that he will be here Monday or Tuesday, and in the meantime Mr. Youngdale, the first violinist of the orchestra, will officiate as leader.

Mr. Shepherd, though a very young man-he is only in his 22nd year-is recognized as one of the leaders among our planists and composers. He obtained his musical education at the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, where he studied from the age of 12 til he was 17, and settling in Salt Lake, at once attained success as a teacher. He was the first accompanist of the Salt Lake Opera company, and prior to that had had some experience playing in the orchestra of the Castle Square Opera company, while he was a student in Boston. He left Salt Lake last August to re-visit Boston for the purpose of taking a course in composition. He would have finished in April, but the tender of the leadership of the theater orchestra hastened his decision to return. Mr. Shepherd's talents are of the highest order, and there is no doubt of his attaining success. The position is a very good one from a monetary standpoint, and in filling it Mr. Shepherd will not only be following his natural tastes, but he will be left opportunity both to write and teach if he so desires.

Mr. Weihe, who has led the orchestra for some years past, having succeeded Prof. Careless, it is understood, contemplates going east. His position as the foremost violinist of this region has long been established, and his many friends will hope sincerely that he will be able to maintain the proud position he has won.

CHOIR STARTS FOR CALIFORNIA,

Merry Crowd of Over Five Hundred People Left in Two Sections Of the Special Excursion Train-From Snow To Sunshine.

Two trainloads of jolly excursionists | number of other excursionists were to left the Oregon Short Line depot this morning for a trip to the Golden Gate and the Pacific coast. It was necessary to make up two sections of the excursion train in order to accommo date the 525 passengers who occupied the 11 sleepers of the Southern Pacific sent down to berth the travelers. It was on the dot of 9 o'clock when the first section pulled out. It was composed of engine No. 403, one baggage car and sleepers Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and Just eight minutes afterwards the second section, comprising engine No. 450, a baggage car, one day coach, and sleepers Nos. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 11, left the station and the happy crowd was bowling along towards Ogden, where a be taken on.

It is seldom that the Oregon Short Line station sees so many people at one time as were there this morning. Besides the excursionists were hundreds of friends who had collected there to see them off, and wish them pleasure and a safe return. All the morning strings of street cars, laden with pas-sengers, were continuously going down to the passenger station, and in view of the big crowd that went away, it almost astonishing that the trains let on time; but they did, and "on the dot, The fact speaks well for the arrange ments made all around.

The big snowstorm of the morning, and that was in its most playful mood about train time, will cause the ex-cursionists to appreciate the promised balmy sunshine of the Pacific slope. Quite a contrast will be seen and felt.

GOING EAST TO STUDY.

Two Professors of L. D. S. University Will Take Furlough After June. John M. Mills, M. A., professor of history, and Ralph V. Chamberlin, B. S., professor of biology, in the Latterday Saints' University, will spend one or more years in eastern universities commencing in June next. Prof. Mills will go to Chicago and then to Harvard. Prof. Chamberlin will go to Cornell and then Johns Hopkins. They will do higher work in their respective lines, and will be even more valuable to the institution they represent on their re turn. Both have been with the Latterday Saints from near its commence-ment, and both are well known in this state as pleasant gentlemen and able scholars. Prof. Mills is an authority on American antiquities, and archaeology will be one of his lines of research while in the east. His lectures on the Book of Mormon have attracted general attention throughout this state. Prof. Chamberlin is an authority on the insect zoology of this region, having made a number of discoveries of net species and corrections in the descrip-tions of species hitherto described. These discoveries have been published in the Proceedings of the National Museum at Washington, the American Naturalist, and the Entomological News, The Latter-day Saints University authorities expect important results from the more thorough preparation these two leading teachers will receive during their furlough. THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING. Mr. and Mrs. James Eardley Will Celebrate the Occasion. Mr. and Mrs. James Eardley of this city will celebrate the golden anniversary of their wedding, at the Third ward meeting house tomorrow evening. This aged couple were married at St. Louis 50 years ago, having met in that city in 1850. They were "Mormon" emigrants on their way to Utah, the young lady from Massachusetts and the young man from England. They traveled side by side and they finally decided that they could not live apart so they were married. The same year they came on to Utah and settled in auditor unless specially au Sait Lake where they have lived ever the county commissioners.

Side by side they have braved the storms of 50 win-ters and basked in the sunshine f as many summers. They are nov happy and contented, with seven child grandchildren and 10 grandchildren, to bless their declining days. At the gathering tomorrow even ing most of the members of the famil will be present together with a few close friends. The order of the even ing will be a banquet and a dance.

PRESIDENT HAYES.

Lecture Delivered by Dr. Albritton at First Methodist Church.

Rev. Dr. Albritton lectured in the First Methodist church last night on the late Prest. Hayes. The doctor said be never knew a man whom he esteemed higher than he did Prest. Hayes. He was a man of so many parts that it would be an injustice to look at him from any one standpoint. He was a soldier, statesman, citizen and philanthropist, an educator and a Christian man. Hayes was a soldier, and seemed to have a charmed life on the battle-field. The lecturer closed by saying: "His real worth will be more and more appreciated as his character is better understood, and as star after star shall shine out and disappear igain, one star shall shine brighter orighter, one name shall become dearer and dearer, one statesman incorrupt-ible, one soldier brave and noble, one friend constant and trus, and that one forever enshrined in the affection of the American people with Washington and Lincoln is Rutherford B. Hayes,"

APPOINTMENTS CONFIRMED.

The county commissioners have con armed the following appointments made by County Recorder Alston: Angus Alston, regular clerk, salary $50 per month; H. S. Schofield and Henry Roberts, $3 per day each; Elsie Cohn and Genevieve Pyper, $2 per day each for extra work.
